Declaring W.A.R. (We All Rise) on Bullying one student at a time. This book series is designed to focus on issues that our youth are struggling and dealing with on a daily basis.

Mr. Don's hope is that by sitting down for a few minutes a day, we will start teaching our youth how to be a true superhero, by teaching the things that have been lost in this fast-paced world. By sitting down and reading to our children we are teaching them a valuable lesson which will set them up for success as they continue to get older, as well as getting to spend some time with them. Our children are living in a world where the phone is their friend, and their idol is the TV. Let's get our children back by taking 15 minutes a day to read to them and teaching them that they are the true superhero. I look forward to seeing true superheroes emerge as We All Rise to create a better, bully free world one student at a time.

Donald L. DeNoyer A Retired Military Veteran of 27 years, Don is an actor and ring and cage announcer with the trademarked catch phrase, "It's Time to Go to War". Don is also a motivational speaker and anti-bullying expert traveling all over California helping schools to reduce the bullying and suicide rates. For the last 20 years Don has devoted his life to changing the face of bullying on campuses by creating a program called WAR Guardians, where the focus isn't about pointing out the bully, but fixing the problem by creating mentors on campus. The program is designed into stages which focuses on working with the schools to bring awareness of bullying, hate, racism, suicide prevention, self-reflection, and personal growth.

Speaking & Literary Agent, Ms. Jean Marie Russo notes: "It's about people, making a difference. Mr. Don has devoted and dedicated his life serving his Country in the Military and he did not stop there. He serves this Country through his writing and publishing, film productions and his Speaking Events through schools Nationwide reaching out to the children with his SuperHero Series and his Harvard University Approved Anti-Bullying Program. He IS making a difference, saving lives by bringing such an awareness. I am proud of who he is; all his accomplishments, succeeding in all his endeavors, especially with the publication of such an incredibly diverse literary work which can saves lives, "Be Good, Be Kind, Be Nice".
